of Ohio.

WHAT has become of Tweed and the Franklin? Sammy pines for the sympathy of Billy. His courage and companionship would be worth much to Sammy in these trying hours.

AND Now it appears that the Union Pacific Railway Company paid Mr. Tilden $25,000 as counsel to Oakes Ames in the Credit Mobiller affair, and for his advice as to how to procure new Congressional legislation. His "style" is to buy men if he wants to use them

To Savery Tirney should be chosen President, he would consider it to be his duty to undertake to bribe the Supreme. Court of the United States to make such decisions as he might think the welfare of the country and his own ambition demanded. Bribery has no terror for Sammy.

IT WILL be very sad news to many of our readers to learn that the Baltimore Sun has, in an editorial, overruled the opinion and repudiated the instructions of the Attorney General in regard to the powers of United States Marshals and Commissioners at Congressional and Presidential elections. Of course, the Sun's opinion is infallable!

THE proclamation of Tilden in regard to the purity of the elections raises a broad grin upon the faces of those who know him. After purchasing his nomination at St. Louis and expending $400,000 to carry Indiana in October, his protest against the use of money to influence elections in November is justly considered as a huge joke.

THE Republicans of Maryland claim that they will send two members to the Forty fifth Congress-McComss, from the Fifth district, and J. Morrison Harris, from one of the Baltimore districts. We trust that they may not be disappointed. Both these gentlemen possess fine abilities, and, if elected, will do honor to their State in the National Councils.

THE Associated Press agent at New York appears to be rivaling the Sun for the position of "home organ" for Tilden. He has not yet heard of the merchants' meeting which was so ably addressed by Mr. Evarts on Wednesday night, but he knows all about the serenade to Mr. Tilden | sel to clients created quite a sensation in Thursday night and his vain-glorious speech to the mob on the finances

THE Independent Greenback leaders and National Labor Councils now see their error in running independent tickets. The latter are advising their friends to vote for Hayes and Wheeler, because that they can have no hopes of electing Cooper and Carey, and their chances for organizing a strong party for success in 1880 will be far greater, they think, with four years more of Republican rule than they can possibly be if they now become the means of giving the Democrats a lease of power. Sensible

WE HEAR that blank-written passes over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, dated October 20, and good for thirty days, signed by John M. Robinson, president of that road, are in the hands of a Democratic committee here for the purpose of sending Democratic voters home. It would be interesting to know whether this road is working for the Democratic party, and what consideration it receives for its help in trying to re-elect Gilbert C. Walker to Congress.

HON. A. HERB SMITH, of Lancaster, Pa. has written a letter upon the important issues of the campaign, in which he exposes the tallacy of Democratic professions of economy and reform. Mr. Smith had a good opportunity during the last session of Congress of becoming familiar with the ulterior designs of Southern Democrats upon the Treasury. He indignantly denounces their schemes for the refunding of the cotton tax and the payment of Southern war claims as the very opposite of economy and reform.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR THOMAS, of Virginia, declared in a public speech, appealing to the colored men, that he had never falsified his word, and was therefore worthy of confidence. Before he left the stand he acknowledged that he had sworn to support the Constitution of the United States and afterwards had gone into the rebellion. This was an acknowledgment that he had perjured himself, and would do so again "under similar circumstances." Can the country trust this man and those of his kidney?

THE communication in another column from Brownsville shows what Democracy is on the Texas border. A Union suldier thinks Mexico would be preferable to Texas as a place of residence for Union men should Tilden be elected. What do his old comrades in the Union army, who have remained in their peaceful homes in the North, think of those who "wore the blue" with them being driven out of the country by unrepentant rebels? Is that what they fought for? If it is, they must vote as they shot-against the Democratic party. We have no doubt our correspondent is well posted on the other questions of which he writes, and that his suggestions are worthy of consideration.

"I was a rebel then and would be again "under similar circumstances," says Lieutenant Governor Thomas, of Virginia. Well, what were the circumstances then and now? Let us see wherein they differ. In 1860 "a solid South" failed to elect its candidate for President, and in 1881 it rebelled for that and upon an abstract idea, the demand that slavery should be carried into the Territories. In 1876 we find "a solid South," upheld by Northern Copperheads, as they were in 1860, demanding the control of the Government which they endeavored to destroy because they could not control in 1861. We find "a solid South" united, not for an abstract idea, or, as old Bill Allen would say, "a d-d barren ideality," but for a most stupendous raid upon the Treasury. Should they fail by a small majority to obtain conarel, are not "the circumstances similar," and avowed enemies to equal civil and and will not Thomas and all of his kin i justify themselves in another rebellion? What difference is there now and then, except that the incipient rebels are better armed and prepared than they were in 1860? Let the voice of the Northern States be unanimous in crushing this new rebel-

THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA.

The wild and incendiary articles of the

be regarded as mere brag but for the experience in Petersburg in a late municipal election, when an overwhelming Republican majority was overcome "by ways that were dark" and "tricks" that were not in vain. It is confidently believed that fraud and intimidation are the instrumentalities relied on to accomplish the feat of carrying the district for the Democrats. Fortunately, however, for the country, the Democracy bave an unwise leader in Wm. E. Hinton, their Copgressional candidate, and his bluster, unwise, threatening and incendiary speeches have secured perfect harmony among the Republicans, and secured for them the aid and sympathy of not only the Republican party of the whole country, but the law officers of the Government, both of which are pledged to see that the voters of that district are secured their rights. It is a fortunate circumstance that the Democracy made such a foolish nomination if they intended to storm this stronghold by fraud, &c., &c. Their leader has "given them away" - "et the cat out of the bag," and brought his constituents and the community into disgrace, afforded the Republicans just ground for seeking the outside aid they have received, and just cause for obtaining the active co-operation of all the legal instrumentalities to secure a fair election under the Federal laws. If it be inoffensive to any Democrats in the Fourth district to be watched on registration and election days; to have hundreds of United States deputy marshals, with power to arrest without process; to have United States soldiers stationed in Petersburg to keep the peace, which has been and is threatened by the unwise and incendiary speeches of the Democratic candidate, they have only to blame their leader, Wm. E. Hinton. He has brought his people into disgrace throughout the country, driven emigrants from wasting lands, alarmed those already located, and, in a word, brought to the people alarm, unrest and fear unnecessarily and wrongfully. It may as well be understood now that the fight in the Fourth district of Virginia is the country's fight, and that all who engage in fraud or intimidation in that locality will be brought to punishment, from the remote judges of election up to the candidate himself, if they or he shall dare to engage in overt acts of violation of State or Federal law. Nothing short of a thorough and active punishment to the fullest extent of the law will satisfy the country if the large majority in that district shall be overcome by fraud, either at the ballot-box or by the illegal allurements of bad men, influencing their fellows by bribes of any nature whatsoever. Gentlemen, take care! INFAMY OF TILDEN. The exposure made by the NATIONAL REPUBLICAN of yesterday regarding Mr.

Tilden's notions of the duty of legal coun-political circles. It was the theme of dis-in the counting-rooms. The Jackson Democrats were at first inclined to poolpooh the matter as unworthy of credit, but when they were reminded that the investigation alluded to was of a public nature, an official inquiry by the judiciary com mittee of the Assembly of which Mr. Tilden was a member, they reflected that the statement was susceptible of immediate verification or refutation. In this view they at once conceded that there could be no possible object in the publication of such allegations unless they were authentic, for the reaction which would be certain to follow the exposure of their falsity would inevitably injure the party guilty of their fabrication. Added to this, the very general knowledge that Tilden had been the advisory counsel of Oakes Ames and the Union Pacific Rulway Company, (for which he had received a single little fee of $25,000.) and in that capacity that he had virtually advised Oakes Ames to bribe Congressmen by placing Credit Mobilier bonds "where they would do the most good," tended to inspire confidence that his advice in regard to the attempt upon Judge Barnard was no mythical romance. In short, those who knew Mr. Tilden in his favorite role of railway lawyer needed but little reflection upon his antecedents to confirm them in the belief that it was the most natural thing in the world for a lawyer, who was capable of advising the corruption of legislators with money, to advise the same thing to be attempted upon the judiciary. Besides this it was well known that he had a personal spite against both Fisk and Barnard, which he was well pleased to vent at each and every favorable opportunity. If, then, he could compass the ruin of both by fixing bribery upon one and the acceptance of a bribe upon the other, and land them in the penitentiary together, his vengeance would be fully gratified. Although he falled in this infamous attempt it has been seen that he brazenly, shamelessly and unblushingly confessed, in the presence of his colleagues of the sub-committee and of the opposing counsel, that he made the effort, and would like to have the opportunity to repeat it. He gloried in his infamy, and eclared that his conduct accorded with his ideas of the duty of counsel to client. Ordinary mortals would have shrunk in horror, disgust and dismay from such a course. Honorable counsel would have deserted clients who would have acted upon such advice in their jealousy of the purity of their profession. But here is a man who not only proclaims his own infamy in the presence of his fellows, but brazenly defends it as proper. And now he wants to be elected to the highest Executive office. He aspires to become the creator of judges. He demands to be made the dispenser of the public patronage with which he may buy and sell legislati at will. Shall his demand be complied will answer next Tuesday. RELIGIOUS AND POLITICAL PROSCRIP with? This question the American people

TION. Under our beneficent system of government religious persecutions are unknown. When the American youth read of the horrors of the Spanish Inquisition their thoughts turn with pride to our exemption from those ills which have been the curse of all foreign countries. But another and more despicable affliction rests like a mighty pall upon our once fair escutcheon. While citizens are permitted to worship God according to the dictates of their consciences, yet, in a large portion of free America, they may not with impunity enjoy political freedom. In the States re cently in rebellion, and which boast of their disloyalty to the General Government, the old slave aristocracy have placed themselves upon the record as being open political rights, and a large class of worthy fellow-citizens are shot down and other-wise murdered simply because of their atwise murdered simply because of their at-tempt to exercise rights conferred upon them by the grace of God and the gen-erosity of the Republican party. Did the idea ever occur to the Hamptons, Lumars and Gordons of the South that, by the in-human atrocities which they have en-couraged in that section since the close of the war, they will be held responsible in ages to come, and that the barbarities ages to come, and that the barbarities which they encouraged at Vicksburg, Hamburg. Ellenton and other places will Index and Appeal and other Democratic papers in that district, which have been embodied in cartoons by Nast in Harper's be ranked by future historians along with Weekly, have called the attention of the the conduct of the Duke of Alba and the whole country to the scene in that locality. horrors of the Spanish Inquisition? Day The district has steadily had a Republican after day evinces the solemn fact that the majority of nearly seven thousand, and that generosity of Gen. Grant to these men at party is as solid as it ever was; yet the Demthe close of the war was entirely undeocratic candidate and leaders assert their served; indeed, such magnanimity would have been more fittingly bestowed upon ability to carry the district. That would the savages of the plains. What would the fathers of the Republic say could they but arise from the tomb and learn of the cruelties which have disgraced the South since the event at Appomattox? What would Jefferson say could he be told how the midnight assassin, in point and disguise, has run riot over the entire South, murdering, whipping and maltreating the defenseless negro, simply because he desires to exercise the privileges of the ballot? How the old philosopher would squirm when he learned that these ruffians call themselves "Jeffersonian Democrats." The remedy for these disgraceful encroschments upon human rights is the prompt interposition of the national arm. The nation cannot longer witness these inhumanities without apostacy. The machinery of the law is adequate to punish the offenders, and all that is necessary is for the district attorneys in the South to do their duty. The evidence against the conspirators is voluminous. Witnesses by the score stand ready to depose against such arch scoundrels as Hampton, Butler, Singleton, Ferguson and others. Let an innovation be made in this regard. Instead of convicting and punishing the supple tools of the arch villains, let the remedy be applied to the fountain head, and let the Hamptons and Butlers and Garys be sent to Northern prisons for their cruelties, where, with striped suits, they may atone for the many wrongs they have inflicted upon citizens of the Republic. The lives of thousands of Southern Unionists, who should have enjoyed the protect ing power of the Government, cry aloud for yengeance. The noble army of political martyrs in the South invoke the strong arm of the law upon their slayers. The murder of American citizens simply be cause of their politics is a far greater indignity to the Republic than was the insult to our flag at Sumter, and, regardless of the political result of next Tuesday, there must be no more 'law's delay," but the assassins must be brought to justice. President Grant's brilliant record as a statesman will not be perfected until he is instrumental in having the murderous Southern aristocrats placed upon trial, convicted and put to breaking rocks for their manifold violations of the laws of the country. Humanity does not ask more, and it cannot be granted

The Republican Platform.

The following admirable condensation of the National Republican platform of 1876 was made by Judge Sloanaker, of Ohio: First. The United States of America is a nation, not a league:
Second. The work of the Republican party s unfinished.
Third. To every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality.

Fourth. Steady progress toward specie pay-Fifth. Appointments selected with sole reference to efficiency and faithful service to the country.

Sixth. Punishment to all who betray official trust. Seventh. The public school system is the bulwark of the American Republic, and for its security the application of funds to sec-tarian purposes should be forbidden. Eighth. Revenue must be derived from duties upon importations. Ninth. No grants of public lands to corpo-

Tenth. The same protection to adopted American citizens as to native-born. Eleventh. Duty of Congress to investigate the Chinese puzzle.

Twelfth. Women's rights to be respected.

Thirteenth. Polygamy to be probibited and Fourteenth. The nation's pledges to soldiers and saflors must be fulfilled. Fifteenth. The Democratic party count on a united South arrayed against the nation.

Sixteenth. The Democratic party is the same in character and spirit as when in sympathy Seventeenth. Hearty gratitude of the American people to President Grant for his service n war and in peace.
